

Voting: What Does Faith Have to Do with It?

But seek the welfare of the city where I have sent you into exile, and pray to the Lord on its behalf, for in its welfare you will find your welfare.

-Jerimiah 29:7

God's people are called to faithfully engage with the world around them to help shape a space for the kin(g)dom of God to become manifest.

Many United Church communities of faith help feed those who are hungry, house those who are homeless, and advocate with the most vulnerable to answer the call of God. Choosing to vote is another way to answer to God's call.

Everyone who is eligible to vote can influence the outcome of the federal election on October 21, 2019.

People of faith can bring God's vision of fullness of life for all our relations into the conversation, setting an agenda for the election campaign and for the resulting government. We can work toward a world in which the welfare of one is the welfare of all.

Fear and negativity have become too prevalent. People are encouraged to be afraid of those who are racially, culturally, and religiously different from themselves. The mistrust of public figures is common. People of faith can change the conversation and challenge candidates to be their best selves as together we answer God's call in this moment.

Let us lift up the consistent message that every individual and the Earth itself are cherished and respected. Let us act together, seeking God's vision so we can build a better future for this country.

Voting: What Does Faith Have to Do with It?

But seek the welfare of the city where I have sent you into exile, and pray to the Lord on its behalf, for in its welfare you will find your welfare.

-Jerimiah 29:7

God's people are called to faithfully engage with the world around them to help shape a space for the kin(g)dom of God to become manifest.

Many United Church communities of faith help feed those who are hungry, house those who are homeless, and advocate with the most vulnerable to answer the call of God. Choosing to vote is another way to answer to God's call.

Everyone who is eligible to vote can influence the outcome of the federal election on October 21, 2019.

People of faith can bring God's vision of fullness of life for all our relations into the conversation, setting an agenda for the election campaign and for the resulting government. We can work toward a world in which the welfare of one is the welfare of all.

Fear and negativity have become too prevalent. People are encouraged to be afraid of those who are racially, culturally, and religiously different from themselves. The mistrust of public figures is common. People of faith can change the conversation and challenge candidates to be their best selves as together we answer God's call in this moment.

Let us lift up the consistent message that every individual and the Earth itself are cherished and respected. Let us act together, seeking God's vision so we can build a better future for this country.

Voting and encouraging others to vote is in our DNA as The United Church of Canada. The founders of this church believed that ours is a living faith and a witness to the ministry of Jesus Christ is expressed through active, thoughtful involvement in society.

By participating in the democratic process, we work together to create a country that lives up to Canada's positive image worldwide and brings us closer to the kin(g)dom of God.

*"We sing of God's good news lived out...
gifts shared for the good of all,
resistance to the forces that exploit and marginalize,
fierce love in the face of violence,
human dignity defended,
members of a community held and inspired by God,
corrected and comforted,
instrument of the loving Spirit of Christ,
creation's mending.
We sing of God's mission."
-from A Song of Faith (2006)*

justice@united-church.ca
The United Church of Canada / L'Église Unie du Canada

190096

 Your Vote
Our Future

Voting and encouraging others to vote is in our DNA as The United Church of Canada. The founders of this church believed that ours is a living faith and a witness to the ministry of Jesus Christ is expressed through active, thoughtful involvement in society.

By participating in the democratic process, we work together to create a country that lives up to Canada's positive image worldwide and brings us closer to the kin(g)dom of God.

*"We sing of God's good news lived out...
gifts shared for the good of all,
resistance to the forces that exploit and marginalize,
fierce love in the face of violence,
human dignity defended,
members of a community held and inspired by God,
corrected and comforted,
instrument of the loving Spirit of Christ,
creation's mending.
We sing of God's mission."
-from A Song of Faith (2006)*

justice@united-church.ca
The United Church of Canada / L'Église Unie du Canada

190096

 Your Vote
Our Future